CABINET HAD OFFICIAL MEETING

Met With President to Form Policies—Tumulty Was the First at Capitol

GEN. LEONARD WOOD IS STILL CHIEF OF STAFF

Japanese Diplomat First to Call on Wilson—Prospective Ambassadors in Line

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Wilson called his cabinet together this morning in its first formal meeting. The formation of policies for the various departments was expected to be the business discussed. The President arrived at his office at 9 o'clock. Secretary Tumulty arrived an hour earlier, beating the doorkeepers to the capitol.

It was announced today that President Wilson has ordered Major General Wood to remain as chief of staff of the army.

JAPANESE DIPLOMAT PAYS RESPECTS TO PRESIDENT; AMBASSADORS CALL

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Japanese ambassador was the first foreign diplomat to pay his respects to President Wilson. He called at the White House today. Later the President received Augustus Thomas and Frederick Penfield, mentioned as prospective ambassadors. A government civil service delegation and other delegations then called.

RECOGNITION OF CHINESE REPUBLIC UP TO WILSON

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Recognition of the Chinese republic will be one of the questions which President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan will be confronted with. The influences working for prompt recognition will be brought to bear upon the Democratic administration with renewed force.

The attitude of the Taft administration has been that the present Chinese government cannot be recognized as anything more than a provisional government until the people approve of the new form.

REBELS ACTIVE IN SONORA STATE

Sonora Congress Has Declared Rebellion; Thousands Ready to Fight, Says Junta

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 6.—Confirmation of reports that the Sonora congress has repudiated the Huerta government caused wide rejoicing today among the Nationalists. The members of their junta here predicted immediate fighting and said that northern Sonora secessionists have four thousand available troops, half of these being armed. The entire northern section of the state is organized to fight for an independent republic if the Federals invade the state, they claim. Col. Obregon, with headquarters at Hermosillo, the capital, they claim fifteen thousand men, well armed, are available immediately.

The junta announced that the northern Sonora Nationalist army will be under the command of Polias Calles, former official at Agua Prieta, and that Col. Juan Cabral, former Madero military expert, will command the central state troops in the event of war. The junta claims to have five thousand troops available there. Gen. Obregon at Hermosillo will direct the general campaign.

The position of the federal garrisons along the border will be desperate if fighting begins. Gen. Ojeda at Agua Prieta has but 150 men and the majority of these are malcontents. Other garrison forces are as follows: Nacozari, 150; El Tigre, 75; Cananea, 400; Nogales, 300.

American Consul Frederick Simpich here today officially reported Tuesday's second attack on the American border patrol by Mexicans. Gen. Ojeda withdrew the Mexican border patrol today, fearing a further clash. After this American Commander Col. Guilfoyle ordered the border patrol to return any future fire only if necessary to save lives.

Illinois White Slave Probe to Quiz Merchants

CHICAGO, March 6.—With fifteen department store and mail order house heads scheduled to testify in the "White Slave and Starving Wage" probe by the state senate, the committee will be resumed tomorrow.

"If any employer testifies that he pays the girls less than $10 weekly I will ask him if he does not think he is contributing to white slavery," said a committee member. Julius Rosefield, head of the Sears Roebuck mail order house, will be the first witness.

AUTO JOYRIDING FINISHES IN GLOOM

Young Man From Los Angeles Comes to Grief Here and Lands in Prison

ARDENT WOOPER OF NUMEROUS MAIDENS

Authorities Deem Him Wonder in Love-Making Line and So Give Him Rest

Joyrides in a large automobile came to an inglorious, gloomy ending for George Worthington, who introduced himself in Santa Ana as the representative of a large eastern publishing house, and according to the local authorities, regaled young women who listened to him with tales of large financial schemes and luxurious honeymoon trips around the world. The finish to some of these beautifully depicted tours came to Worthington yesterday when he was taken into custody by Under Sheriff Law and Deputies Dean and Heard, and he is now passing thirty days in a cell at the county jail instead of seeing the sphinx in Egypt, doing the sights of Berlin, or boulevardiering in gay Paris.

Worthington, who is a neatly dressed man of about thirty years, was before Justice of the Peace Cox this morning for sentence on the technical charge of driving an auto in this city without a state license. He pleaded guilty to this charge, but denied that he had been using the machine here principally for the purpose of taking girls and women riding and making love to them. Despite his denial, Assistant District Attorney Koepsel had information to the contrary, and he told the court so.

From information secured by the sheriff's office, Worthington was setting a warm pace here as a gay lothario. He hadn't missed an afternoon or evening without a joyride, accompanied by a member of the gentler sex, to whom he invariably made professions of ardent love, usually coupled with promises of matrimony. One young woman says he told her he had an income of $125 per week, and he was ready, she says, to take her on a world tour, and forever after live happily together. So much of this kind of information had reached the authorities, that Justice Cox concluded that about thirty days in jail would give the accused man a chance to quit his ardent wooings.

Appeal for probation made by Worthington fell upon deaf ears, and also met with vigorous protest from Attorney Koepsel. It also developed that the auto he had been using was in reality the property of F. C. Howland, who is connected with the Los Angeles Auto Wrecking Company. The latter promptly paid the $5 assessment levied against the machine by County Assessor Sleeper, but he backed up when confronted with a claim of $35 from the West End Garage manager for repairs to the machine. The adjustment of this claim is still in abeyance.

DR. FRIEDMANN IS MUCH DISCOURAGED

New York Officials Refuse Permit to Make Tests; Waldorf Hints for Him to Leave

NEW YORK, March 6.—Dr. Friedmann today moved his belongings from the Waldorf Hotel to the McAlpine. A hint from the management which objected to the gathering in the hotel corridors of tuberculosis sufferers seeking relief, was responsible for his action.

His friends say Dr. Friedmann is discouraged at the failure of the New York officials to permit him to make tests. It is reported that several prominent doctors will aid him to secure recognition.

SUDDENLY COMPROMISED SUIT FOR LOSS OF SIGHT

REDDING, Cal., March 6.—Suddenly agreeing to accept $8,000 instead of the $50,000 he demanded, Dan Gonnish, a miner, brought to an abrupt end his damage suit against the Reid Mining Company. Gonnish lost his sight through an accident in the company's mine near here. The evidence in the case was about to be closed when the compromise was announced in court. The case was at once dismissed.

ONLY EVIDENCE WAS FROM GAS COMPANY

Meter Basis Used to Find Out How Much Central Plant Should Be Charged Up

FURTHER HEARING IS SET APRIL 21

Railroad Commission's Engineer Is to Check Over Statement Submitted Today

ORANGE, March 6.—After a hearing lasting less than an hour, State Railroad Commissioners Eshleman and Loveland adjourned their investigation until 10:30 o'clock, April 21. The purpose of the adjournment is to give the commission's engineer time to check over the statements submitted by the Southern Counties Gas Company this morning. All the evidence that was submitted came from the gas company.

The hearing today came as a result of the application of the gas company to have the rate for gas at Orange raised from $1.15 per 1,000 feet, as fixed by city ordinance, to $1.35, which amount the gas company asserts is necessary to give it a fair rate of profit from its investment.

About twenty-five persons were present at the hearing at the city hall this morning. Statements as to values of property, expenses and receipts were submitted by McFarland, secretary of the Southern Counties Gas Company. This statement showed that the company values its plant at Santa Ana at $108,000, an appraisal made to have been put upon it in 1911 by B. J. Arnold, plus money spent upon the plant since that time. Orange is supplied with gas from the Santa Ana plant on a line that goes out North Main street. Anaheim and Fullerton also are supplied through that line. The statement charged a proportion of the value of the central plant up to investment to the Orange territory.

"By what process do you arrive at Orange's proportion?" asked Eshleman. "What basis do you follow?"

McFarland stated that the basis is on the number of meters, the number in Orange being compared to the number of meters served by the plant.

M. R. Thompson, engineer of the gas company, gave testimony concerning the main line from Santa Ana. Questions brought out the fact that some Santa Ana users are supplied from the main out Main street. City Attorney Brown appeared for Orange. He offered no testimony.

"The thing that we must next determine," said Eshleman, "is what is a fair valuation to place upon the investment of the company chargeable to the city of Orange. This hearing will be adjourned to April 21, in order to give the commission's engineer time to check over the statement of the gas company."

With that the hearing was adjourned. The gas company was represented by Attorney Goodwin of Los Angeles. President Bain and other officers of the company were present.

EMILIO MADERO ESCAPES MEXICO

Reported Dead, He Reaches San Antonio, Tex., With His Brother Raoul

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 6.—Emilio Madero, who was officially reported dead by the Mexican government and American Ambassador Wilson, reached here yesterday after an overland trip from Torreon to the American border, and tells a graphic story of his experiences.

With Emilio were his brother Raoul and three servants, who accompanied them the 600 miles on horseback from Torreon to Marathon, Tex. They came from Marathon, where they joined another brother of the late president of Mexico, Gabriel Madero. Neither Emilio nor Raoul would say anything further than the other brothers have already said as to the future plans of the Madero family. Both refused absolutely to discuss Mexican politics.

RHODUS BROTHERS HELD GUILTY OF $1,000,000 FRAUD

CHICAGO, March 6.—Life insurance companies promoted by the three Rhodus brothers, Birch, Thomas and Edward, have been declared illegal in an opinion announced by United States Judge Kohlsaat, who declared that stock frauds amounting to nearly $1,000,000 had been committed.

START SURVEYS FOR IMPROVING HIGHWAYS

County Commissioners Inaugurate Work For Which People of Orange County Voted $1,700,000

Start has been made on the extensive county highway improvement project for which the people a few months ago voted $1,700,000, and which sum has been enhanced by the addition of about $28,000 bond premium. From this time forward it is the purpose of the county highway commissioners to push this important work as rapidly as possible to satisfactory completion.

Chief Engineer Halladay has placed the first party of surveyors in the field in charge of Deputy Engineer Stearns, the members of the party being Messrs. Stearns, Hoy, Bergman and Newton and a team and driver.

Today these surveyors are at work just outside the Santa Ana city limits at the end of West Fifth street. Each, a distance of exactly 7.57 miles. When these surveys have been completed the next procedure will be the preparation of estimates of the cost of the improvement work contemplated, and the determination of the kind of road to be built.

DARROW ARGUES FROSTLESS BELT HIS OWN CASE TODAY

Fights for Freedom; Says He Does Not Ask for Mercy; Rather Die Than That

Judge Conley will give instructions so that the case can go to the jury at 8 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Clarence Darrow today resumed his final argument to the jury, having begun his plea yesterday afternoon. He denied the charge that he had attempted to make McManigal change his testimony. He flayed the prosecution again for reintroducing the Lockwood affair, and bitterly denounced Bert Franklin, declaring that he really accepted a bribe by accepting immunity. He discussed the prosecution's evidence in the order presented and called John W. Harrington a "scoundrel." Referring to Prosecutor Gray he declared:

"They can send me to the penitentiary because I am an enemy to the rich, to the rich whose boots Gray would lick for about the price another man would take to shine them."

Reverting to what he claims is persecution by the district attorney's office he declared: "I am not asking for mercy; I don't have to. I can fight. I would die before I would ask mercy from this gang of brigands."

"Do you think I gave Franklin four thousand dollars and told him to go down town and buy a juror like a little boy would buy candy? Can you beat it?" questioned Darrow. "Of all the crazy, improbable things a jury ever was asked to believe this is the worst. When Detective Browne arrested Franklin, I met him. Franklin says I remarked, 'They are onto you, Bert.' Browne says I did not say it. Harrington, the scoundrel, says I went to my office after that and told him I was ruined. Browne says at that time I was entering the court house talking to him. Franklin goes and tells a lot of people I am innocent. Are they all liars who testified to this? The prosecution says that when Franklin told them that, he lied. Yes, he was a liar and a scoundrel as long as he was on my side, and only turned good when he went over to the prosecution," the defendant declared sarcastically.

"I have told this story to a jury before. It pronounced me not guilty. The case should have ended there, but here I am again. I have grown weary and tired of it. I am ready for the last sleep that comes to all. My life has been long, but ever since I opened my eyes I have been fighting, fighting, fighting. I have loved mercy and gentleness and have done the best I could as years went along. I have loved the weak and poor and have fought for their liberties, and have fought honestly. That is why I am before you today. Your verdict must content me, but I know what it will be. The twelve men who passed on my fate before have come here day after day to give me confidence and courage. My fate is in your hands."

With his eyes streaming, and his voice vibrant with emotion, while many of the spectators wept, Darrow closed his appeal as he said: "Gentlemen, there is nothing in the case, but I have powerful enemies seeking my ruin. But I know wherever men and women told there are prayers in my behalf. I know that where sewing girls are bending over their work, tears are dropping to be sewed into the garments of the rich. I have fought for peace for the love of my fellowman as taught by the Infinite Being, but the fight has been hard. If you send me to prison, I will continue to work there, but I want to be free for the sake of my family. I have lived my life as I saw it. I could have hunted with the wolves but I did not. I am satisfied with the road I have traveled. To the hands of you twelve men I submit my fate. The fate of my family. The prayers, and tears of thousands are waiting to hear your verdict."

Another step forward in the construction of the magnificent new polytechnic high school that Santa Ana will have ready for students next September, was taken by the Board of Education in regular meeting last night, when two more contracts for work on the structures in the group of buildings were awarded.

It was a protracted session owing to the many perplexing problems that had to be considered, particularly in reference to the best plans for heating the three buildings. Superintendent Reid of the municipal water department favored the utilization of hot water for heating purposes in preference to the proposed plan of steam heating.

There was considerable debate over this question, and it finally terminated in the decision to reject all bids that had been received for heating and ventilating under the present plans of Architect Withey, and the latter will at once prepare new plans and specifications under which new bids will be called for.

Messrs. Hill & Son, the well known Santa Ana hardware firm, were awarded the contract for the plumbing at the new schools. This does not include the sprinkling system. Their bid was $12,213.

The painting contract was awarded to the Union Square Painting & Decorating Company of Los Angeles, for $4,026.

Because the fame of the beauty and comparative freedom from all frost enjoyed by Santa Ana vicinity, in addition to the magnificence of the general surroundings and the salubrious climate here, the managers of the famous Triangle Trolley Trips conducted over the lines of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, are contemplating the inauguration of a new tour that they believe will prove to be among their most popular attractions.

Santa Ana is to be the bright, particular point of attraction on the new sightseeing trip, which is planned will start from Long Beach, where there has been an unusual rush of tourists all winter. The cars will be specially equipped for these trips, starting from the ocean front at Long Beach, touring the general country between the two cities, and arriving here in season for noontime dinner.

After a visit here of an hour or two the return to Long Beach will be made via Baboia.

To accommodate the Santa Anans and visitors here who may wish to enjoy the present trolley trips, the company has made arrangements so they may join the excursions here and return on any regular car from Los Angeles.

Turks Sink 3 Greek Transports Off Salonika in Attack on Grecean Fleet

ATHENS, March 6.—The Greek war office today officially announced that the great Turkish fortress at Janina had surrendered to the Greeks, who took 32,000 prisoners. ATHENS REJOICES OVER VICTORY OF GREEK ARMS

ATHENS, March 6.—There was riotous rejoicing here following the announcement of the triumph of Greek arms at Janina, with the capture of Monastir recently, public street speakers declaring that Greek arms have avenged their defeat in the Graeco-Turkish war a decade ago. Citizens marched the streets singing and celebrating throughout the day. Business was practically abandoned. Flags are displayed everywhere and the churches are crowded with thanksgiving worshippers and mothers and wives praying for the safety of their soldiers.

Few details of the capture of Janina are reported although the Greek war office declares it was accomplished with little bloodshed among the Greeks. For the last month the Greeks, with the allied Servians, have been drawing the lines close to Janina, which is the strongest Turkish post in the west and controls the entire west Turkish territory. There have been several sanguinary battles within the last two weeks. With the fall of Monastir, the last Turkish resistance in the west has disappeared with the exception of Scutari. It is believed Scutari must fall within a fortnight.

TURKISH CRUISER SINKS THREE GREEK TRANSPORTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 6.—Official announcement has been made that the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh yesterday sank three Greek transports off Salonika, instead of one as at first reported. All aboard were lost. The Hamidieh attacked the fleet of twenty-three transports conveying soldiers to the front. The majority on board were Servians. Several other transports were damaged.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

JUDGE WEST IS SURPRISED AT

Democrats Are So Numerous
at Court House as to Be Noticeable

Very little business was transacted in the superior court today, but Judge West had plenty of work to do in chambers. After attending to a couple of routine cases, the judge had occasion to visit the county clerk's office, and he could not restrain his amazement at the number of Democrats he found there transacting business. Out of seven men in the office, five were Democrats.

"Well, well," commented his honor, "there are certainly more Democrats abroad than I had any notion of."

A few minutes later he called in at the tax collector's office and the county assessor's office, and there, he declares, he found the same state of political complexion.

"Why I have only stepped about the building," declared the judge, "and it seems as if everywhere I went I ran into a group of Democrats. Why, they are really numerous."

"Sure," retorted Attorney H. C. Head, who is the official head of the Democratic County Committee, "they are just coming out of their holes. Back in Washington, D. C., everybody is a Democrat now."

"I guess so," conceded the judge.

Final Decree Granted

A final interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted by Judge West to Mrs. Annie Westlake from Robert Westlake, on the grounds of intemperance.

Adjudged Insane

Frances Saul of Orange was adjudged insane this morning in the superior court and committed to Patton asylum. The complaint in the case was sworn to by Mrs. Carrie Hargrave, and it sets forth that the unfortunate woman is afflicted with a mania to commit suicide, that she imagines she hears mysterious voices, and is also subject to spells of melancholia. The complaint was issued by Justice of the Peace Cox.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

YEARS YOUNG
TODAY

County Dispenser of Justice Is Celebrating and Friends Congratulate

It was a busy day in more ways than one for Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox today, for in addition to having several criminal cases to demand his attention, he also was called upon to celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. All day long friends were dropping in to tender their congratulations and express the hope that he lives to see at least 65 more anniversaries.

"I feel like it, all right," said the judge. "I couldn't feel better without feeling worse."

Justice Cox is a native of Ohio, which state he admits is in the front rank as a producer of statesmen and politicians, a statesman simply being a defunct politician. Young as he was when the civil war was raging, he succeeded in enlisting in the Fifty-first Illinois Volunteer Regiment, and served until the close of the war. He is a member of the G.A.R. He has been a resident of this section about 15 years.

Mexican Discharged

Mrs. Trinidad Terrones, who had caused the arrest of Jose Terrones on the charge of disturbing the peace in and about her home at Newhope, did not succeed in making her complaint stick this morning when the evidence was taken by Justice Cox. There was a good deal of conflicting testimony, and the court dismissed the complaint, with a warning to all concerned to live more peaceably.

Burglary Charged

It is on a charge of burglary that Jesus Gomez is being held at the county jail. The alleged crime is said to have been committed at Olin-da recently. Gomez's examination has been set for March 13 at 10 a.m.

Gomez is accused of breaking into the cookhouse and room of Willis Elder on the North American Consolidated Oil Company's lease on the J. M. Hales ranch near Placentia.

CONSIDERING PAY
OF COUNTY OFFICIALS

Representatives of Chambers of Commerce Have Matter in Consideration

Ways and means of doing justice to all concerned were considered yesterday afternoon by the representatives of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, when they met at the city hall here to discuss the various phases of the County Government Bill, which proposes to name cuts in salaries of certain county officials and employees. Those present included F. H. Case, president of the Santa Ana chamber; Gus A. Stern, president of the Fullerton chamber; and E. A. Howard, president of the Huntington Beach chamber. They discussed the contemplated legislation from various angles, and decided before making formal report to confer with county officials, which they did. The committee will report at a general meeting of the various chambers to be held in Santa Ana next Wednesday night.

Black Art at the Bell

The many requests from the hundreds of patrons of the Bell have prompted Manager Roberts to hold over the great La Vern Co., for tonight and Friday night, when they will present their mysterious Hindoo Black Art specialty, and which is without doubt one of the most puzzling and novel acts ever brought to Santa Ana, and as the Bell has been taxed to its capacity for the past three nights, it is evidence of the wonder that this act has created. It is worth the price alone. With the Black Art will be seen two other vaudeville acts and three reels of new pictures, including the famous Pathe Weekly.

LUMBERMEN TO AID IN FIRE FIGHTING

Forest Service Makes Contracts With Woodmen; Man
Causes Most Forest Fires

WASHINGTON, March 6.—That the forest fire season is coming around again is shown by the fact that the United States Forest Service has already begun to renew its forest fire contracts with lumbermen by which the forest service takes over the work of fire protection on private timber lands, the owner paying a share of the cost of this protection. California lumbermen consider that these contracts are the cheapest insurance they can secure for their properties and each year more of them make requests for such co-operation.

During the dry season of 1913 the service expects to protect under these contracts nearly three-quarters of a million acres of privately owned forests at an average cost to the owners of less than one cent per acre.

Five years continuous record on the national forests in California shows that 26 per cent of the forest fires in the mountain regions are caused by lightning—74 per cent by man. These figures just compiled by the U. S. forest service show since 1908 that 3166 fires have occurred, 840 of which were caused by lightning. The lightning fires are the least of their troubles, say the officers of the forest service. They are often accompanied by rain which, while it does not always put them out, holds them in check so that one forest ranger can easily control them. In the Sierras they are confined to high altitudes where there is little timber to burn and the ground is generally damp from late lying snow. No instance is on record of lightning ever starting a crown fire.

Man is the one who does the damage. These same figures show that of the 2326 fires, he has caused in the last five years in the heavy timbered lower slopes of the California forests, 41 per cent were caused by campers, 22 per cent by malicious incendiaries, 15 per cent by railroads, 15 per cent by clearing land and 7 per cent by lumber operations.

CALIFORNIA JUDGSHIPS

A chief justice and two associate justices of the state supreme court must be chosen at the election next year and of the three judges whose terms will expire only one seeks to remain, Associate Justice F. M. Angellotti, who has announced that he is a candidate for promotion to the chief justiceship.

Chief Justice Beatty and Associate Justice Shaw wish to retire from their long judicial careers. Judge Angellotti desires to round out his service in the highest judicial position in the state. He began as district attorney of Marin county, became superior judge, and then advanced to Associate Justice of the Supreme Court ten years ago.

Judge W. M. Conley of Madera is an avowed aspirant as a Democrat for associate justice.

The only suggestion thus far of an opponent of Judge Angellotti for chief justice is John M. Eshleman, president of the Railroad Commission, but it is problematical whether he would accept the nomination.

Considerable interest has already been aroused over the place on the appellate bench in the San Francisco district. Judge F. H. Kerrigan has announced his candidacy for re-election. It is more than probable that he will have active opposition, although no aspirants have as yet definitely announced themselves.

Candidates for the court of appeal is to some degree more attractive than that for the supreme court, as the campaign in the appellate district does not involve the effort that does the statewide campaign. The judges received $7000 a year, only one thousand less than the salary of an associate justice.

A constitutional amendment pending in the legislature providing for the appointment of all judges by the governor is receiving pronounced advocacy in San Francisco. The bar association is giving it emphatic support. Such men as Harris Weinstock and Charles S. Wheeler strongly urge its enactment. The protest against present conditions is levelled chiefly at the courts of San Francisco, where the political jungle flourishes. The city does have some good judges but it is also burdened by jurists whose chief recommendation is their vote-getting powers. Appointment by the most responsible authority in the state, coupled with the right of the people to involve the recall, is the remedy that is now being urged by men who have earnestly studied the problem of correcting conditions prevailing in the courts.

Doubts are expressed as to the willingness of the people to yield up their right to select the judges. Another obstacle is that outside of the large cities, it is demonstrated that they are successful in large measure in electing good judges.

FATTON AND WHITTIER

Assemblyman W. F. Chandler, chairman of the committee on ways and means, has concluded his tour of the state institutions in Southern California and speaks in emphatic praise of the manner in which they are being conducted.

"I am particularly interested in the humane care of the unfortunate in the state mental hospital," said Mr. Chandler on his return from the south, "and I want to say that in the institutions I have visited I found the management efficient and earnestly sympathetic with the work they are called on to do."

"I was particularly pleased with the asylum for the insane at Patton in San Bernardino county. They are much overcrowded there, but the management has been able to achieve much in the way of making the best of a situation, Senator Strobridge, who was with me, and who has visited the Patton asylum several times before, said he had never seen it in the excellent condition it is in now."

"I think that humanity dictates that the state should be more liberal so that there may be adequate accommodations for the unfortunate inmates. There is no question but that much has been accomplished in improving the care and attention given to patients and I think it is now the duty of the state to see to it that there is ample housing and equipment."

Mr. Chandler criticizes conditions at the Whittier reform school, not because of its management, but because the state has been too niggardly in making proper provision. "I think Superintendent Nelles is doing excellent work," said the assemblyman, "but the state has failed in its duty toward the young charges. I have been quoted in the newspapers as severely criticizing the Whittier institutions, but if that is interpreted as a reflection on Superintendent Nelles then a grave injustice is being done him."

Senator Strobridge and Assemblyman Chandler visited the southern normal schools and found the requests for extensions of quarters to be justified. The legislators are devoting the present week to the institutions in northern California.

CALIFORNIA IRON ORES

Deposits in the Eagle Mountains Described by the United States Geological Survey

The iron ores of the Pacific coast have until recently received but little attention. Numerous deposits have been known to exist, but they have generally been regarded as too far from centers of consumption and fuel supplies to be worked at a profit and too small to warrant the expense of erecting furnaces within reach. The deposits at Minaret, Madera county, Cal., are said to be among the largest in California and perhaps in the west. They occur in the summits of the Sierra Nevada. Probably next in size, but of greater commercial importance, are the Eagle Mountain deposits, in Riverside county, Cal.

The United States Geological Survey has just published as Bulletin 503 a report on the iron-ore deposits of the Eagle Mountains, by E. C. Harder. The examination and mapping of these deposits form the first detailed investigation of the iron ores of California made by the federal survey and are a continuation of similar investigations in the Iron Springs district, in southwestern Utah, made several years ago.

The Eagle Mountain range is one of a large number of bare ranges of rocky mountains in the Mojave and Colorado deserts. The higher peaks of the Eagle Mountains rise about 4,000 feet above sea level, and the edge of the desert that surrounds the range on the west, north, and east averages about 1,500 feet above sea level.

The principal iron ores of the Eagle Mountains occur on the north limb of the dome in a chain of discontinuous deposits, six and one-half miles long, trending across the summit of the range in a northwesterly direction. They extend three miles west of the summit and three and one-half miles east. The ore-bearing zone reaches in places a width of 4,000 feet, but individual ore deposits do not exceed 500 feet in width. A moderate estimate of the total quantity of mixed ore and gangue material available in the deposits not exposed, assuming that they extend several hundred feet down, is about 75,000,000 tons. Of this quantity about four-fifths is assumed to be ore, most of it of very high grade.

No iron ore has been mined in the district, the principal obstacle to the establishment of the iron industry in Southern California being the absence of fuel. The nearest deposits of coking coal are in Colorado, the lignites and bituminous coals of Washington and Oregon being unsuitable for this purpose. It seems likely, however, that before many years extensive mining operations will be started in the Alaskan coal fields, and then large quantities of coking coal will be shipped to Pacific coast ports, thus making possible the establishing of blast furnaces and steel plants.

A copy of Bulletin 503 may be obtained free on application to the Director of the Geological Survey at Washington, D. C.

PACIFIC COAST LETTER

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Goat Island it is, and Goat Island it will remain until the people of the region around San Francisco bay shall make it Yerba Buena Island again by their own daily use of the Spanish name.

That's the official opinion of Henry Gannett, chairman of the United States Geographic Board, delivered in a letter to Representative Kahn after many clubmen had written him an appeal to banish the homely back-lot appellation.

Gannett explains that some of these letters have been "very abusive"—trying, in short, to make of the geographer the same thing he calls the bit of land between San Francisco and Oakland. He refuses to be made a goat.

"We might legislate until doomsday," he says, "and it would do no good until Californians began to use the name Yerba Buena. Fifteen years ago I looked into the question, and found just one name for that island used there, and that was Goat."

Land office delays have set a new record in the case of two townships near Enterprise, Walla Walla county, in northeastern Oregon, where settlers have for more than ten years been kept waiting for a correction of the original survey that may drive them from a considerable part of their lands. Congressman Hawley has just secured from the commissioner of the general land office a special deputy who will adjust the trouble this spring.

Discovery that the two townships overlapped upon an adjoining grant was made in 1902, and the land with its settlers established was withdrawn from entry. The settlers started, acquiring squatters' rights, but many buildings they have constructed, and improvements of land made thus far, may finally be found to belong across the line.

The land office had simply failed, during ten years, to finish the work it began when it withdrew the lands. Among the provisions in the District of Columbia appropriation bill this year is a senate amendment put in by Senator Works, of California, requiring that street laborers be paid at least $2 per day. All of these laid borers are colored.

Iron ore deposits at the summits of the Sierras, near Minaret, Madera county, California, are perhaps among the largest in the west, according to the United States Geological Survey Bulletin. They are not yet valuable because they are too far from the fuel necessary for smelting.

Less extensive but more valuable are the iron ores in the Eagle mountains in Riverside county, the southern desert. They have just been surveyed and mapped, and a chain of discontinuous deposits, six and a half miles long, is now known to extend across the summit of the range on the north limb of the dome. The government investigator estimates the ore to amount to about 60,000,000 tons, mostly high grade.

Development of these ores depends upon the opening of the Alaska coal fields and the cheap transportation of that fuel to California ports, where blast furnaces and steel plants will be established.

Representative Kettner of San Diego, is making no false pretenses on the tariff situation. Though he is just now becoming a real member of the house he has been doing the routine work of the late Representative Smith's office for the past two months, and is pretty well disillusioned.

"The plain fact is," he said today, "that every member here is favorable to placing on the free list everything but the products of his home district. I am in the same boat, though I am more liberal. I ask merely that the citrus products of my district be given their share of the tariff which must be retained in order that sufficient revenue shall be raised to meet our national expenditure."

Kettner's constituents have been wondering what success he would have in convincing Oscar Underwood that lemons and oranges could not stand a tariff cut. He has learned that some cut will surely be made.

Economics Section Enjoyed Fine Demonstration of French Pastry and Desserts

Twenty-three members of the Second Household Economics Section of the Ebell met with Mrs. Hatzfeld Wednesday afternoon in one of the most enjoyable and profitable meetings of the year. The subject that was demonstrated during the afternoon was "French Pastry and Dainty Desserts." The dining room was transformed into a buffet kitchen. Mrs. Hatzfeld very skillfully demonstrated what can be done with three eggs, flour and salt, quality as well as quantity being emphasized. Miss Wells also enlightened the company as to the possibilities in French pastry and decorations for the same.

The refreshments consisted of cranberry tarts, for which Mrs. Hatzfeld, the hostess, is noted; French pastry and an Easter motif consisting of toasted cake with a layer of whipped cream and a half apricot for the center. A French pastry by the cupfulous name of rabbits' ears, and coffee.

Mrs. Hatzfeld, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Malone, Miss Wells and Mrs. Mark Lacy were the hostesses for the afternoon.

FRENCH VICOMTE IS KING

PARIS, March 5.—Paris had its "Emperor of the Sahara"—young Luc Hardy—and it is now entertaining another Arabian king. This new monarch is the Vicomte de Brateuil, a globe-trotter, who has been chosen by an Arabian tribe as its ruler. It appears that the Vicomte in the course of his travels visited Arabia and found the sheiks in constant warfare. He suggested to them the virtue of choosing a ruler for all their tribes, and as they could not agree on one of themselves, he consented to serve as their king.

The Vicomte found the lands of Central Arabia of unequalled fertility, situated on a high and healthful plateau.

The King-Vicomte is in Paris for the purpose of interesting capital in his kingdom, and has already interested, he says, one of the biggest financial institutions in France. He plans a school system on the French model, the building of roads, the issue of a currency (with the king's head engraved on the coins) and the appointment of an Arabian ambassador to France.

Woman's Alliance
The members of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, together with some of their friends, met in the church parlors yesterday afternoon for their monthly social meeting. The attendance was exceptionally large.

After a brief business meeting the ladies enjoyed a social hour, at the conclusion of which light refreshments were served by Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Warty.

Mrs. Mary E. B. Robinson then read a paper in which she paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Mae S. McKinney, who was a faithful member of the church and Alliance for a good many years.

SOME CABINET SKETCHES

V. M. J. BRYAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 6.—Orator, lawyer, statesman, advocate of world peace and veteran of the Spanish-American war, Colonel William Jennings Bryan brings to the cabinet one of the strongest personalities in America. His career has been one of the most wonderful in the history of the country.

Three times candidate for the Presidency, Bryan was thrice defeated, but still held his place in the councils of his party. At the Baltimore convention he was the dominant factor. Although his enemies declared that he was trying to bring about a situation which would result in his own nomination, he fought his battle along a definite line, and gained the most sweeping victory ever known in America after having been apparently crushed under the weight of a great political machine which had planned to write a reactionary platform and nominate a "safe and sane candidate." No one who listened to it will ever forget Bryan's bitter denunciation of "Murphy, Morgan, Ryan, Belmont and the interests," or the manner in which, by sheer weight of personality, he forced through the declaration of independence which pledged democracy to refuse to support any candidate acceptable to Wall Street.

Bryan left the convention hall in Baltimore a victor and immediately got on the firing line for the candidate whose nomination he had made possible. His appointment indicates that President Wilson is convinced that Bryan's action was prompted by public duty and not by selfish ambition.

Bryan was born at Salem, Illinois, in 1860, his father being Judge Silas Lillard Bryan, from whom the Colonel inherited his deep religious views and convictions. He was graduated from Illinois College at Jacksonville, Ill., at the age of 21, and married a class mate, Miss Mary Elizabeth Baird, who has since been his right hand in all of his work. Shortly afterward they moved to Lincoln, Neb., to "grow up" with the "new West."

In 1891 Bryan, the silver-tongued, turned a 19.9 Republican majority into one of 6000 in his own favor and went to Congress. Too poor even to finance his campaign, friends loaned him the money to make the successful canvass. In Washington, Bryan showed his caliber from the start. He got on the ways and means committee—daddy of them all—in his first year, and was immediately recognized as a potent factor. Leaving Congress in 1895, Bryan went to the Omaha World-Herald as a political writer, and in 1896, as a delegate to Chicago, made his now historic "Cross of Thorns, cross of Gold" speech.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY STORY

By Clarissa MacKie

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

MICHAEL DOLAN stood in the doorway of his grocery store and watched the solitary pedestrian on the opposite sidewalk.

"Pretty, pretty," crooned Michael approvingly, "but only a week out of Ulster county, Ireland, or I'll eat me hat!"

The girl was looking anxiously at the numbers over the house doors. Suddenly she dropped her queer looking carpet-bag and ran up the steps of a vacant house to stare in at the unshuttered windows. Presently she came away, and then she saw Michael standing in the doorway. Picking up her carpet-bag, she crossed the street and laid the bag at his feet.

She was undeniably pretty, with the loveliness that only comes out of Ireland. Black lashed green eyes and hair of a tawny silken texture would make her conspicuous among dozens of black haired beauties, but her complexion was roses and cream, and her mouth was dimpled and her nose adorable.

"I'm looking for Mrs. Slattery," she said in a soft, rich voice. "The number's all right, but she don't be living there now, I'm thinking."

Michael frowned. He distinctly remembered Mrs. Slattery, who had moved away owing him a small bill.

"I don't know where she's gone," he replied. "I might find out if you'll come inside and wait. I'll take your bag, Begorra, but it's a bad!"

"It is heavy," admitted the girl as she followed him into the store.

"See, you go around and see if you can find where the Slatterys have gone," ordered Michael, and the boy darted away. "You'll be having a chair by the stove?" he asked.

"Thank you," said the girl shyly. "Shure, and I'm making you a lot of trouble."

"None whatever," protested Michael, leaning against the counter. "The green and gold of old Ireland commands me services at any time," he ended elegantly.

A swift flush deepened the girl's rare color. She smiled and displayed marvelous teeth.

"Of course I know I'm green looking," she admitted, "but it's beyond me to tell how you can see the Irish flag through me carpetbag," she laughed deliciously.

Michael was confused. He could not explain that he had instantly compared the green of her eyes and the gold of her wonderful hair to the colors of the Irish flag.

"You just come in on the boat?" he asked hurriedly.

She nodded. "Yesterday, I was to room at Mrs. Slattery's."

"You going out to housework?" asked Michael.

"No, I'm going to mend lace in one of the big stores," she responded, looking past him into the street.

"Oh!" gasped Michael. This girl was not of the sort he had suspected. She had been educated at home and after a few months in the big city would undoubtedly have found a niche far above Dolan's corner grocery.

He watched her covertly while he waited upon the customers that straggled in. She sat there, gazing dreamily out into the dirty street.

To Michael Dolan she typified the country that he loved so loyally—beautiful Ireland, waiting for the news that would awaken her to new life, that would turn her feet into other paths—paths that led up and away from corner groceries and Michael Dolans and—Michael's thoughts became chaotic here. All he realized was that at last he had fallen madly in love with a strange girl, who would presently go out of his sight forever. His trembling hands spilled sugar over the floor.

"I wish Joe would never find them Slatterys," was Michael's wicked wish. Instantly he was scared, for in darted Joe, panting.

"Back to the old sod?" he announced. Michael stared.

BURGLARY CASE AGAINST WHITE AND BLACK

Well Known Citizen of Anaheim and Employee Are Taken Into Custody

STOLEN ARTICLES OF VARIOUS DESCRIPTIONS

Loot Recovered by the Vigilant
Members of the Sheriff's Department

A robbery that is keeping the sheriff's office busy resulted in the arrest last evening of Will I. Smith, a well known resident of Anaheim, and Sam Henderson, a negro employed by the former, on the charge of being the perpetrators.

That Smith should be charged with such a crime and in company with the negro, taxes the credulity of even the officers, but inasmuch as the stolen property was found in his residence, he has been taken into custody, although promptly released on bail in the sum of $3000, which was fixed by Justice of the Peace Cox. His bond was furnished by his wife and H. Kelly of this city, although other bondsmen were ready to qualify.

Earl D. Gray swore to the warrant that resulted in the arrest of the white and black men. He charges that they took a number of articles from his home, said articles being the property of his wife, Mrs. Lydia E. Gray. According to the report of the Anaheim officers, articles had been disappearing with marked regularity from the Gray home, especially during their frequent absences. Suspicion was directed toward Henderson and his arrest followed.

Before this interesting event, however, it is said that Smith ascertained that Henderson was in trouble, and taxed him to tell the truth. The result was that notice was sent to the authorities that the stolen goods were at Smith's home, where it is claimed, Henderson placed them, after taking them from some hiding place.

Practically all the stolen articles have been recovered and are now in storage in a room back of Justice Cox's office in the basement of the

MANY CHILDREN ARE OUT OF SCHOOL CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN NOW BEING PLANNED

About One-Fourth of All the Children of School Age Not Attending

ORANGE COUNTY HAS AN IDEAL RECORD

No Such Conditions Here as Are to Be Found in Other Sections

Seven million children, it is estimated by competent authorities, do not attend school in this country, out of a total of 25,000,000 children of school age. The Farm and Fireside, a Springfield, O., publication, which has been investigating the problem, makes the following comment in its current issue:

"Out of twenty-five million children in the United States, less than eight million go to school. Of these seven million children who do not go to school, half of them live in the country, where bad roads—muddy roads, rutty roads, dangerous roads—not only prevent them from getting to and from school, but by their impoverishment of the farm prevent the existence of any good schools for them to go to."

"Many children are killed each year walking railroad tracks to school. Why? They have no roads to walk on. Many children each year have no schools to go to. Why? The roads are so bad there is no profit in farming, no money for schools, no progress, no growth, no ambition. Hundreds of thousands of children yearly have to do with a little schooling, a little part of a term at school—why? Because father needs their help on the farm—he isn't making money enough to spare his children's time for school days, because he has to pay so much for hauling his crops to market he has no profit left for extra hired help."

"Isn't it YOUR problem too, Mrs. Mother? Isn't it worth YOUR while to actuate the question? Isn't it worth YOUR while to bring it up in church, in school, in society, in club, in neighborhood—to talk, to inquire, to agitate, to educate, those who don't know, and perhaps don't want to know, to understand that the expense of good roads is like the expense of a new threshing machine, plow or a pair of horses, sure to come back many fold in the course of time."

But these conditions are not found in Orange county. On the contrary almost ideal conditions prevail here. This is not the decision of the local educational authorities, but of noted educators and directors of school work, who have from time to time visited Santa Ana and Orange county public schools.

Superintendent Mitchell of the county school department, has visited every section of the county, and nowhere has he found any such conditions as prevail in other sections of the country, accepting the figures of the Springfield publication as accurate. There are no sections here where the roads are too bad at any time for the children to go to school regularly; and where the distance is a factor the children are provided with means of transportation. In this respect Orange county ranks among the best conducted schools in this or any other country.

Chamber of Commerce Directors Invite Co-operation of all Civic Organizations For General Improvement

CLEAN UP ... 0 CrR mml300
"Clean Up the City" is to be the slogan of all the civic organizations within a few weeks at the outside, if the proposition of the directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is followed. The directors of that progressive organization in regular session last night, heartily endorsed the suggestion of City Trustee George McPhee, who declared that there are some unoccupied tracts of land, and some tracts that are occupied, that are an absolute disgrace to the community as a whole, as well as a source of unmistakable danger to the nearby residents.

The meeting was held in the chamber's room on the second floor of the city hall, with President F. H. Case presiding. The other directors present were H. J. Coffey, H. T. Rutherford, A. H. Lyon, J. D. Thomas and Fred Ranerty, with Secretary Metzgar on hand as usual. The cleaning up movement was the first thing to receive attention. Mr. McPhee, who has been giving the existing conditions some study, declared that the time is ripe for a general "clean up."

His views met with general approval, and there was a general discussion of the subject, with marked unanimity of expression as to the need of removing all undesirable conditions both on vacant and occupied lots. Bad conditions in the rear of many homes where domestic animals are kept, were also considered. It was asserted that in some cases conditions are very much worse than the

COMPLAINTS THAT FROSTED ORANGES HAVE BEEN SENT EAST IN LARGE QUANTITIES

Complaints have been received from fruit dealers and wholesalers in the East that frosted oranges, unfit for consumption, have been shipped from California, says the Los Angeles Express. The complaints are contained in letters, some of which, it is said, carried severe criticisms expressed in denunciatory terms of shippers who hope to make immediate, though small, profit at the risk of heavy loss to the trade generally in the future.

An investigation of the report that these complaints had reached Los Angeles resulted in the disclosure that hundreds of carloads of imperfect oranges had been shipped out of the state to markets where they will be exhibited for sale beside Florida and Porto Rican fruit which was untouched by the frost.

The result, it was pointed out, is obvious. While all California-grown oranges may not be condemned or regarded as unfit to use, a general impression naturally will result that fruit bearing the California stamp must be accepted at a hazard.

Hard to Place Responsibility
Inquiry proved that it would be difficult to place responsibility for these shipments, which, by many growers' shippers, are looked on as a black eye for the state and one which may take years of constant endeavor to cure.

One man who is prominently connected with the shipping interests declared there is a general desire on the part of the shippers, individuals and associations alike, to hold back frozen fruit. While the principal difficulty, he said, was to distinguish the good oranges from the bad there was no doubt that worthless fruit was being sent to markets where the California product is preferred.

Shippers generally known and recognized as agents for the growers and who as a rule handle approximately 75 per cent of the fruit each season, have forwarded 50 per cent or less of all the oranges that have left California this year. The larger proportion of the remaining shipments have been sent out by speculative shippers with a view to making profits on packing charges. This fruit, it is asserted, generally has been poor and has been offered throughout the country.

The speculative shippers, it was explained, approach the grower with a proposition to be permitted to ship his fruit and share in the profit. Hundreds of carloads have gone forward on this basis with the full knowledge of the shippers, it is asserted, that the fruit was bad.

Want to Avoid Friction
Shipping men generally are reluctant to discuss the matter, because they explained, they wished to avoid any friction among themselves and they hoped enough good fruit would find its way into the Eastern markets from California to maintain a standard so far as concerns their own shipments.

Many shipments have gone forward where the fruit not only appeared to be in perfect condition, but which the shippers themselves believed to be good. As it is virtually impossible to distinguish between a good orange and a bad one without mutilating the fruit shippers who have a strong de-average citizen would suspect.

It was decided to ask the co-operation of all civic organizations, including the Civic League, and to adopt plans that will permit of united action in the matter. President Case was authorized to appoint a committee of five members, one to represent each ward, so that immediate steps may be taken to get into action. He named the following members of this committee:

First ward—L. J. Carden, chairman.
Second ward—S. M. Davis.
Third ward—R. J. Thompson.
Fourth ward—A. C. Black.
Fifth ward—A. C. Tiede.

This committee will make full inquiry among all public spirited citizens, and endeavor to set a date for a general public "cleaning up" occasion.

Two new members of the chamber were elected, they were W. W. Irving and G. E. Marcy.

The action of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County in opposing the passage of the proposed Sunday rest law, was endorsed by the local directors.

The proposed experimental station in Southern California, which the second session of the state legislature is expected to authorize, also received attention, but it was deemed advisable to await the action of the state senators before taking definite action. As Orange county is regarded as offering the best facilities for such a station, the Santa Ana directors will be satisfied, it is said, with its location anywhere in this county.

ARBOR DAY WILL BE OBSERVED TOMORROW

Birthday Anniversary of the Horticultural Wizard of State of California

LUTHER BURBANK IS FORMALLY HONORED

Humane Educational Society is Sponsor for Eloquent Plea for the Birds

Tomorrow is Arbor Day in California. March 7 is the anniversary of the birthday of Luther Burbank, the noted "California horticultural wizard," and Arbor Day has been set for that date in his honor. The California statutes expressly provide that "all public schools and educational institutions are directed to observe Bird and Arbor Day, not as a holiday, but by including in the school work of the day suitable exercises having for their object instruction as to the economic value of birds and trees, and the promotion of a spirit of protection toward them."

Appropriate services will be held in the Santa Ana schools. An address was issued today by the American Humane Education Society in which the following appears:

The farmer is sure he owns the birds that fly over his land. The country and the state make all kinds of laws about birds that fly over the land.

The United States, however, is waking up to its rights—somewhat late.

The Nation of January 23, 1913, contains the following statement:

A bill was reported last week by Senator McLean of Connecticut providing that the federal government shall undertake the protection of migratory birds. It calls upon the department of agriculture, which has in its records a great mass of precise information on the subject, to draft regulations, afterwards to be enacted into law.

Economic Considerations
This is no mere response to sentiment. It is not intended to catch the "bird-lovers' vote. The project is based on economic considerations, and its active supporters include such men of science as William T. Hornaday, Henry Fairfield Osborn, Theodore S. Palmer of the United States Biological Survey, and Edward H. Forbush, ornithologist of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture.

The Year Book of the department of agriculture is authoritative for the statement that in a single year (1904), the damage done to crops by insect pests amounted to $420,000,000.

From the same source we learn that the annual loss to apple-growers from the ravages of the curculio pests amounts to $12,000,000, to say nothing of $8,250,000 expended each year for spraying trees; that the chinch bug damages the wheat crop to the extent of $20,000,000 a year, and that the value of the cotton crop is decreased annually by the same amount through the work of the southern boll weevil, while the gypsy moth and other insects destroy or seriously damage every year trees valued at $100,000,000.

These figures have increased significance when we remember that the insectivorous birds (most of which are migratory) are most efficient aids in keeping down insect pests.

Bugs or Birds, Take Your Choice
Mr. Forbush saw a pair of grosbeaks taking insect larvae to their young at the rate of 450 times in eleven hours, and estimated that a single yellow-throated warbler would devour 10,000 tree lice in a day.

Similar observation establishes the fact that several kinds of destructive caterpillars form part of the regular diet of more than fifty species of birds, and that plant lice are persistently destroyed by thirty-eight species.

Put the experts declare that the number of these birds is steadily decreasing, and that this is due primarily not to their natural enemies, but to man.

The most persistent and inclusive slaughter is carried on constantly in the southern states, where many species of our most valuable insectivorous birds pass the winter months. Several of these states not only do nothing to prevent this slaughter, but actually legalize it by laws which class certain insectivorous birds as "game."

Making "Game" of Useful Birds
For example, the robin is classed as game in North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. The bobolink is slain in even greater numbers, and doves are legalized "game" in twenty-six states.

Mark Twain said, "It is better to be a live June bug than a dead Bird of Paradise." Ten thousand bugs live to buzz a requiem over every dead bird.

"Mix-Fee" contains cracked corn, rolled barley, wheat and oat shorts, and costs but $1.35 for an 80-pound full weight sack. Olive Mills

DROPS BILL PURSE ON THE SIDEWALK LOSS IS HUNDREDS

J. O. Coleman, one of the proprietors of the Fifth Street Garage, had an all-gone feeling last night when he reached to his pocket and found his bill-purse missing. He had a perfect right to an all-gone feeling, for that purse contained two $50 bills, one $20 and one $1. Beside paper money the purse contained a note for $600 and a number of lodge receipts, other receipts and cards of the Fifth Street Garage.

Coleman had the purse when he left the garage last night. He walked to Fourth street on Broadway, then east on Fourth to Main, then south on Main to the Bell Theater. He had just arrived in front of the moving picture place when he missed the purse. Coleman retraced his steps to the garage, but he failed to find the purse. Someone had picked it up. Since the purse contained cards and receipts, the person who picked it up can have no doubt as to the ownership of the property. Coleman has offered a reward of $50 or more for the return of the purse and its contents.

GIRLS' COURT FOR PRIVATE HEARING

CHICAGO, March 6.—A girls' court, for the examination of delinquent girls in private hearings, was opened here yesterday in connection with the juvenile court.

Miss Mary M. Bartelme, for sixteen years public guardian, was appointed by Judge Pinkney of the juvenile court as master to conduct the hearings. The purpose of the court is to shield girls brought before it from publicity and enable them to make their statements without embarrassment.

"The object of the court," said Miss Bartelme, "is to get at the truth. Many girls lie when they are under the gaze of men in a courtroom. We will take only one case at a time. All the assistants are women."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

A shipment of strawberry rhubarb is expected in from the North in a day or so. A small quantity has already been received this season, but the coming shipment will be the first of consequence. Opening prices will probably be about $4 to $5 a box, which is high compared with the selling rate later in the season. Winter crimson rhubarb is in fair supply and sold as low as $1.15 yesterday. Offering of asparagus were as low as 20 cents a pound; in only a few instances was it quoted over 40 cents. The green variety is the more expensive. A considerable quantity of red cabbage was in evidence, quoted at $2.50 a crate. Artichokes, sold under $1.35 a dozen, a somewhat lower price than has recently prevailed. The onion market is a little steadier. Potatoes are still easy. Small receipts of apples were reported, but the market continues easy. Citrus fruits remain dull and featureless. Logans are expected soon. Eggs advanced 1 cent. Some dealers believe that the draught on receipts for storage purposes is responsible for this. It is expected to be only a temporary character. Butter is firm, with no prospect of a material change for a week or so. A decline is expected then. Cheese is rather steady. The price to the trade for northern fresh is 17 to 18 cents a pound. Reported receipts were: Eggs, 706 cases; butter, 35,270 pounds; cheese, 1600 pounds; potatoes, 950 sacks; beans, six sacks; sweet potatoes, 25 sacks; apples, 100 boxes.

"Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers"

(WINGOOD'S DRUG STORE)

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturers' iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves, you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell, all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this—if you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or better, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive money guarantee.

LIVE NEWS GATHERED FROM NEARBY TOWNS

PACIFIC ELECTRIC IS NOT TO DELAY WORK

ORANGE, March 6.—The Pacific Electric executive committee—D. C. Drake, D. F. Campbell and F. L. Almsworth—held a conference yesterday with Paul Shoup, president and manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Company. Arrangements were made whereby the local committee agrees to pay in all subscriptions within the next ten days. In return the company agrees to push condemnation proceedings on all tracts on which deeds have not been secured, to an early completion, and further agrees to build into Orange immediately after right of way is secured to them.

Barking at Bismarck
Bismarck was no favorite with women, least of all clever women, who dared to think for themselves and imagine that they could fathom questions of state. He was never tired of snubbing strong-minded ladies, putting them down and stamping on them.

One day he paid a visit to the Russian embassy at Berlin, where he behaved as usual, flouting even the mistress of the house, the Countess Schouvaloff herself. He took his leave at length, to the relief of everybody, and presently the family gruff man as he passed through the courtyard. Immediately the Countess ran to the open window and Bismarck heard her voice saying to him in a tone of gentle entreaty:

"Oh, please, M. le Chancelier, don't bite my dog!"—TH-BIS.

The Stronger Influence
"Which do you think appeals more generally, art or literature?"
"Art. Almost anybody would rather send a picture post card than write a letter."—Washington Star.

SUGAR COMPANY HAS YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Annual Report of the Anaheim Corporation Shows Very Fine Condition

ANAHEIM, March 6.—The yearly report of President A. R. Peck, of the Anaheim Sugar Company, read before the stockholders of the company in annual meeting at the sugar company's plant north of town, this week showed the company to be in the best financial condition. Net earnings of the company for the past year total a handsome figure and the prospect for the coming year is bright. His report showed that the plant during the past season was in operation 95 days, and during that time in excess of 58,000 tons of beets were sliced. The year previous only 45,000 tons were handled. This makes 13,000 tons more in 1912 than in 1911. The average price per ton paid in the year just closed was $6.72, as compared with $5.68 in 1911. A total of $392,919.22 was paid out to beet growers the past year for beets, or $89,320 more than the year previous.

The report showed further that while a higher price had been paid for beets, the price of sugar had materially decreased, owing to a glutted market, and the year had been a comparatively poor one for the sugar industry. In spite of this adverse condition, the conservative management of the plant and sound business methods by the officers, had triumphed and the year was closed with a handsome net earning.

FULLERTON PLANNING NEW SEWER SYSTEM

FULLERTON, March 6.—The city trustees opened bids yesterday for constructing the sewers. One bid was for $50,000 and another for $52,000. The trustees rejected both and will readvertise.

Three hundred consumers have signed contracts to take water from the city as soon as the municipal water system is completed. There are only about 375 consumers in the city. It is said the Domestic Water Company will make a fight to hold its business, but it has made no reductions in rates up to this time.

WOLVERINES HEARING CALL BACK HOME

Michigan people now residing in Southern California are planning to attend the Detroit "rendezvous" in force July 2. More than 100 persons are expected to go from Southern California on special trains, starting June 27. The Los Angeles and a similar San Francisco train will be combined at Salt Lake City for the long trip east. Dr. W. T. Rothwell of Los Angeles is chairman of a committee of ten making arrangements for the tour, which will be under the auspices of the Michigan State Society.

Misunderstanding
Elihu Root, at a Chamber of Commerce dinner, said:

"There are hundreds of thousands of people outside the great industrial communities who think the Chamber of Commerce a den of thieves, who think that the manufacturers of the country are no better than a set of confidence men."

Discussing this regrettable misunderstanding afterward, Mr. Root smiled and said:

"It is a misunderstanding that will come out right in the end; but just now if a rich man returned to say to a poor man, 'I believe in putting by something for a rainy day,' the poor man would sneer bitterly and reply: 'Yes, that's why I and my friends lose so many umbrellas.'"—Washington Star.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

No Headache, Bad Taste, Sour Stomach or Coated Tongue by Morning

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Advertisement.
